DER ERSTE TAG SOMMERS / FIRST DAY OF SUMMER
(occurs between the 20th and 23rd of Juni)

6 GERMAN WORDS YOU'LL NEED TO KNOW THIS SUMMER

5. Kaltstellen - to chill something in the fridge

A man takes chilled beers from the fridge in the July heat in Hanover, Lower Saxony.

In theory you can use this word at any time of year, but you'll probably find yourself employing it more in summer when the baking hot weather leaves you in want of a cold beer, a chilled glass of wine or refreshing summery cocktail.

Kaltstellen means to keep something cool in the fridge, and can also be used colloquially to mean to sideline someone or throw someone out.
