

DER MONAT NOVEMBER

Unmissable events in Germany this November

From modern music and dance festivals to a traditional horse-led procession recognized by UNESCO as a cultural gem, here are the top events all around Germany you'll want to catch this November.

Winterdom in 2021.

Hamburger Winterdom, November 4th -December 4th

Over 230 different attractions make up this magical festival, the largest in northern Germany which has taken place over 700 years strong. Just as exciting as the flashy carnival activities is the wide variety of food ranging from Bratwurst and Currywurst to traditional dishes, including the Schmalzkuchen, or “lard cake,” which is similar to a donut but smaller and square-shaped.

Berlin Jazz Festival, November 3rd – 6th

Starting at the beginning of November, the capital comes alive with the sound of saxophones, xylophones, trombones, and many other instruments as part of its long-running music festival which attracts artists from all over the world. The festival, one of the oldest of its kind in Europe, features classic compositions and daring new styles, and takes place at several music venues around the city. Tickets sell out fast but are still available for several events.
