

WAS ESSEN DIE DEUTSCHEN? / WHAT DO THE GERMANS EAT?

10 DELICIOUS FOODS YOU HAVE TO TRY WHILE LIVING IN GERMANY

5. Spargel mit Butter

Germans go absolutely mad for Spargel (white asparagus). In late spring every year, little wooden huts pop up all over the country offering the pale sprout by the bag full.

As with much of the best German cuisine, simplicity is key. The finest way to serve Spargel is the most established. The boiled asparagus is accompanied by boiled potatoes and breaded pork. A thick helping of melted butter - or Hollandaise sauce - is then oozed all over the vegetables. To die for (and if you eat enough, you probably will).