HOW TO ORDER COFFEE IN GERMAN

7. Wo ist der Zucker? (Where is the sugar?)

Have you ever walked away from the counter and stood there forever like a fool trying to find where the sugar and milk are kept? This will be especially useful for bakery and coffee stands, as most cafés put the sugar on the saucer.

8. Darf ich bitte die Speisekarte sehen? (May I see the menu, please?)

In case you feel your tummy starting to rumble. Some cafés have English menus as well, if you're not feeling particularly adventurous.

9. Wie viel kostet das? (How much does it cost?)

Although the prices will usually be listed, you don't want to have to be afraid of the bill when it comes. This way, you can avoid having to wash dishes in the back room to pay for your drinks.

10. Welche Größe möchten Sie? (What size would you like?)

Typically, there are only two options: klein (small) or gross (large), which correspond to size expectations in most other countries. Alternatively, you can be proactive and include the size in your order:

11. Sonst noch etwas? (Anything else?)

Again, this is to be asked by the waiter, unless you've decided to reverse roles for the fun of it.

12. Ich bringe es Ihnen. (I will bring it to you.)

Unlike cafés in some other countries, a waitress will generally take your order after you're seated. In the case that you do place an order at the counter, you don't have to stand around for waiting for it. They'll generally find you and bring it over.

13. Wo sind die Toiletten, bitte? (Where are the bathrooms, please?)

Hey, we all know what coffee does.

14. Gibt es WLAN hier? (Is there WiFi here?)

The answer is usually yes. However, you may have to ask:

Was ist das Kennwort? (What is the password?)
